- d) Bang Le has 8.33 percent ownership interest.

FACTS:

1) On March 16, 2010, a Commission Special Agent (agent) went to Wizards to investigate a complaint that Wizards extended credit to players. While at Wizards, the agent told Cory Coyle that he was investigating a complaint. The agent reviewed Wizards NSF¹ check log and saw that John Chan wrote three checks (#3443, #0834, and #0835) totaling $20,000 in NSF checks to Wizards. The agent asked Mr. Coyle about John Chan. Mr. Coyle told the agent:

- John Chan was a floor supervisor at Wizards, but Mr. Coyle recently terminated him.
- He determined that John Chan wrote fraudulent checks to Wizards from his brother's bank account.

2) On March 30, 2010, the agent met again with Mr. Coyle at Wizards. Mr. Coyle provided the agent with copies of the three NSF checks (#3443, #0834, and #0835) that John Chan wrote to Wizards. Checks #3443 and #0835 were each for $5,000 and check #0834 was for $10,000. All of the checks had the name Sam Chan on them and were for a bank account with US Bank. Mr. Coyle told the agent:

- He reviewed the check for $10,000 and although the check had Sam Chan's name on it he thought that John was the "American"² name for Sam.
- He took the check #0834 for $10,000 to US Bank and had it converted into a cashier's check.

3) The agent contacted Sam Chan at the telephone number on the checks. On April 1, 2010, April 14, 2010, and May 12, 2010, the agent spoke to Sam Chan, who told the agent:

- His brother, John Chan, stole checks and an old driver's license from his house.
- He knew that John Chan wrote checks to Wizards casino from his bank account.
- John Chan told him that he had to pay gambling debts to Wizards and he got the impression that Wizards was extending credit to John.
- On March 4, 2010, he went to US Bank and put a stop payment on all outstanding checks from his bank account. US Bank told him checks #3443, #0834, and #0835 were still outstanding.
- US Bank gave him the contact information for Cory Coyle at Wizards regarding check

² Sam and John are of Asian descent and sometimes persons of Asian descent go by an "American" name.

#0834 for $10,000. Mr. Coyle had come in that day to convert check #0834 into a cashier's check.

- On March 6, 2010, he told Cory Coyle that the checks John Chan wrote were fraudulent and done so without his permission.
- He never gave anyone at Wizards authorization to cash any of his checks.

4) Sam Chan gave the agent copies of all the fraudulent checks written by John Chan. The agent discovered that John Chan wrote an additional three fraudulent checks at Wizards besides the ones listed on Wizards NSF check log. Check #3440 for $5,000, was made out to Jonathan Do and cashed at Wizards, and checks #3441 and #3442 each for $5,000 were made out to Wizards.

5) Based on the information from Sam Chan, the agent determined that Wizards casino cashed a total of six checks that John Chan wrote from Sam's bank account totaling $35,000.

Check	Amount	Date
#3440	$5,000	February 25, 2010
#3441	$5,000	February 25, 2010
#3442	$5,000	February 26, 2010
#3443	$5,000	March 3, 2010
#0834	$10,000	March 3, 2010
#0835	$5,000	March 4, 2010

6) After talking to Sam Chan, the agent again met with Mr. Coyle on April 21, 2010, and asked him about the additional three checks (#3440, #3441, and #3442) that John Chan. Mr. Coyle told the agent:

- He had talked to Sam Chan and was told John Chan stole an identification card from him.
- John Chan cashed five checks at Wizards.
- When John Chan started writing checks to Wizards, he wanted to make sure checks #3441 and #3442 would clear because they were for large amounts.
- He took checks #3441 and #3442 to the bank and converted them to cashier's checks; both checks cleared the bank. Mr. Coyle's signature and cell phone number were on the back of each check.
- Checks #3443, #0834, and #0835 did not clear the bank.
- John Chan gambles at Wizards.

Mr. Coyle knew about additional checks written by John Chan that did not appear on Wizards' NSF check list, but failed to disclose this information to the agent during their March 16, 2010, and March 30, 2010, conversations about the checks John Chan wrote to Wizards.

7) On April 22, 2010, the agent interviewed Keven Bauman, who told the agent the following:

- John Chan asked him if he could cash a check and he authorized two checks (#3441 and #3442) each for $5,000 which John wrote to Wizards.
- He approved check #3442 over the telephone. He approved check #3441 in person and saw that the name on the check was "Sam Chan." He thought that "John" was the "American" name and "Sam" was his real name.
- John Chan was an employee of Wizards and he did not think he needed to review the check.
- John received cash for both of the checks and he used the cash to gamble at Wizards.
- He also authorized and cashed check #3440 that John Chan wrote to Jonathan Do for $5,000.
- Jonathan Do was a player at Wizards and John Chan owed him $5,000.

The agent asked Mr. Bauman if John Chan told him that his brother Sam Chan allowed him to cash checks from Sam Chan's account. Mr. Bauman told the agent "No," but then told the agent that John Chan said "something" about his brother but could not remember what it was.

The agent then asked Mr. Bauman if he knew that checks #3440, #3441, and #3442 did not belong to John Chan. Mr. Bauman told the agent that he knew that those checks were not John Chan's, but he approved them to be cashed anyway. Mr. Bauman said that John Chan told him, "My brother would cover it."

8) The agent interviewed Shift Manager Samuel Mickelson on three occasions. Mr. Mickelson told the agent on March 30, 2010:

- He approved checks #0834 and #0835 and saw the name "Chan" on the checks and assumed it was John Chan's checks.

Mr. Mickelson told the agent on April 21, 2010:

- After John Chan cashed checks #0834 and #0835, he gambled the money at Wizards.
- He did not write John Chan's driver's license number on check #0834.

Mr. Mickelson told the agent on April 28, 2010:

- He did not know that the checks he approved were not John Chan's and John Chan did not bring up his brother when cashing the checks.
- He contacted Keven Bauman for authorization to cash check #0834. Mr. Bauman authorized him to cash the checks and instructed Mr. Mickelson to not follow Wizards internal controls for cash checking procedures because the check would not clear the check verification system (Landmark).

9) On April 20, 2010, the agent interviewed cage cashier Roeun Sok. Ms. Sok told the agent:

- John Chan asked Mr. Mickelson to cash two checks.
- Mr. Mickelson told her to cash checks #0834 and #0835.

- Because John Chan was an employee and because her manager told her to cash the checks, she did not check John Chan's identification and did not run the checks through the Landmark check verification system.
- The name on the check said Sam Chan and she thought that "Sam" could have been John Chan's "American" name.

10) On April 30, 2010, the agent interviewed Hiem Nguyen, Cage Cashier. Ms. Nguyen told the agent:

- Jonathan Do is a regular "high-roller" player at Wizards and he brought check #3440 to the cage to cash.
- She noticed the check was a third party check (made out to Jonathan Do from someone else) and asked Keven Bauman about cashing the check.
- Keven Bauman told her to cash the third party check.
- John Chan brought check #3441 to the cage to cash.
- She asked Keven Bauman about cashing the check because it was not John Chan's check.
- Mr. Bauman told her the check was John Chan's brother's check and told her to cash the check.

11) On April 30, 2010, the agent again met with Mr. Coyle, who told the agent:

- Keven Bauman told him that he knew that the checks John Chan wrote were from John's brother's bank account, but Mr. Bauman authorized Wizards employees to cash them anyway.
- He deposited into Wizards' bank account a third party check (#3440, written to Jonathan Do) that Mr. Bauman authorized Wizards to cash.
- He did not know until March 4, 2010, when US Bank called him about check #0834 that the checks John Chan wrote were from his brother's account.
- He knows it is against Commission rules to cash a third party check or to cash a check from someone who is not the check owner.
- Mr. Bauman did not tell him that John Chan was writing checks from Sam Chan's bank account. (This contradicts what Mr. Coyle told the agent at the beginning of the interview.)

1) Under RCW 9.46.190, Keven Bauman engaged in an act, practice or course of operation that would operate as a fraud or deceit upon another person when he authorized and instructed Wizards' employees to cash checks John Chan wrote, although he knew that the checks were not John Chan's.

2) Keven Bauman caused card room employees to violate gambling rules, in violation of RCW 9.46.185, when he authorized and instructed Wizards' employees to cash checks that did not come from John Chan's personal bank account and to cash a third party check, in violation of WAC 230-06-005. As a result, Mr. Bauman caused Wizards to extend credit, in violation of WAC 230-06-035.

3) Keven Bauman instructed Wizards' employees to disregard Wizards' check cashing procedures and internal controls, in violation WAC 230-15-580 and WAC 230-15-425, when he told Wizard's employees not to run checks that John Chan wrote from another person's bank account through the Landmark check verification system.

4) Keven Bauman admittedly knew that John Chan wrote checks from his brother's bank account. However, Mr. Bauman failed to report to Commission staff within three business days the illegal or suspicious activity and failed to copy and preserve surveillance video of John Chan cashing the fraudulent checks, in violation of WAC 230-15-305 and RCW 9.46.153.

5) Keven Bauman willfully disregarded gambling laws and regulations when he allowed and authorized John Chan to cash checks from John Chan's brother's bank account. This also includes cashing a third party check that John Chan wrote to Jonathan Do.

6) Keven Bauman's actions demonstrate that he poses a threat to the effective regulation of gambling, or creates or increases the likelihood of unfair or illegal practices, methods, and activities in the conduct of gambling activities. Therefore, grounds exist to revoke Keven Bauman's license under RCW 9.46.075(1) and (2), and WAC 230-03-085(1), (3), and (8).
