Re: Plants vs. Zombies Video Amusement Game

Dear Mr. Berger,

Thank you for submitting the Plants vs. Zombies amusement game, manufactured by Sega Amusements, to us for review. We have completed our review.

It is my understanding the game plays as follows:

This is a video style game where players use a peashooter to shoot peas at advancing zombies. If any zombie crosses the player's last line of defense the game is over. If all zombie waves are destroyed the player wins the super bonus. Players receive tickets based on their score at the end of the game.

The Plants vs. Zombies video game meets the definition of an amusement game (RCW 9.46.0201) and is approved for use as a Group 5 Hand/Eye Coordination (WAC 230-13-035) amusement game in Washington State.

Please be advised that any modifications to the Plants vs. Zombies video amusement game software or associated equipment must be provided to us for additional testing and review. In addition, amusement games operated in Washington must not have settings that allow the operator to control the outcome of the game (auto percentaging). The approval of this equipment may be rescinded at any time if problems are found by the Commission or changes to the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) impact this approval. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Sonja Dolson at (253) 671-6283.

Sincerely,

Mark Harris
Assistant Director
Field Operations Division

Gameplay

Sega's Plants vs. Zombies™ The Last Stand puts the player at the control of a cabinet-mounted Peashooter that fires peas to stop advancing waves of zombies. If any zombie crosses the players last line of defense, it's game over. As zombies are destroyed, tickets are paid out. If all Zombie Waves are destroyed, the player wins the bonus.
