Re: Octoscore Amusement Game

Dear Mr. Faith,

Thank you for submitting the Octoscore amusement game to us for review. We have completed our review.

It is my understanding the game plays as follows:

The player inserts tokens and pushes the start button. The spinner will gradually pick up speed. The player then presses either the fast stop or slow stop button to use their skill to stop the arrow on the desired section of the spinner on various ticket values or diamonds. If the player lands on a diamond they receive tickets and the diamond is displayed on the game. If the player collects enough diamonds they win the bonus. Players have the option to play from one to eight arrows. If the player chooses to play all eight arrows, they win the prizes displayed for all eight locations where the arrow stops.

During the review you were advised that the maximum wager is $3.50 at locations where minors are allowed to play (WAC 230-13-135). If a player plays eight arrows on the Octoscore game the total for all eight arrows cannot be more than $3.50 if minors are allowed to play.

The Octoscore game meets the definition of an amusement game (RCW 9.46.0201) and is approved for use as a Group 5 Hand/Eye Coordination (WAC 230-13-035) amusement game in Washington State.

Please be advised that any modifications to the Octoscore amusement game software or associated equipment must be provided to us for additional testing and review. In addition, amusement games operated in Washington must not have settings that allow the operator to control the outcome of the game (auto percentaging). The approval of this equipment may be rescinded at any time if problems are found by the Commission or changes to the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) impact this approval. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Sonja Dolson at (253) 671-6283.

Sincerely,
